Play is a natural process that is freely chosen, spontaneous, joyous, instinctive and absolutely vital to children as is their right to be musical. Parks for Play will never exclude a child on the grounds of disability / additional needs and gives priority to children most at risk of exclusion

Parks for Play has been connecting communities through inclusive play in parks, streets and clubs since 2004. The charity was awarded Gold Community Champion for its contribution to services for children and equalities by Kings Heath BID partnership.
